Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer moving image file is deemed objectionable because it promotes and supports the exploitation of children for sexual purposes.

The file consists of an explicit video clip focused on a young girl involved in sexual conduct. The video clip is very short and likely to have been recorded on a phone or other mobile device. Its likely purpose is the sexual arousal and gratification of viewers with a sexual interest in children, and its availability encourages sexual exploitation.

The classification of this publication interferes with the right to freedom of expression set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention and is a reasonable limitation on the freedom of expression. The classification reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to protect its young and vulnerable members from sexual exploitation.
